FOREWORD

There are many pathways leading to growth. Accumulating facts from a textbook, acquiring a skill through repeat practice, learning a trade with the help of an instructor - these roads to intellectual growth we encounter in school.

However, before we can use these things to work in the world we must learn to live in it. At home and in our recreational activities we are constantly learning to improve our social and personal relationships.

This book records some of the pathways we have traveled this year in our journey toward maturity.

DEDICATION

We, the Ranger Staff wish to dedicate this Annual to Harlan G. Oakes, a former student of Joppa High School.

An honorarium was bestowed upon Mr. Oakes in the form of an American Flag, which was removed from the Capitol of the United States, and given to him as a retirement present through the Offices of the 9356th Squadron, Senator George Murphy of California, and the Architect for the Capitol.

Mr. Oakes has voluntarily given the school this American Flag, and no gift of greater importance could be placed in our school than this.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

These board members merit praise for their service to the school and community.

Competent cooks, custodians, and bus drivers have a vital role in day-to-day school life.

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

The first, and probably the most important, concern among young people today should be the decisions they make about furthering their education. This is a good time to reflect on important things.

It has been said that each boy and girl has the potential of being three persons: the person that he is, the person as he imagines himself to be, and the person his parents see him to be.

I am sure that each student has learned certain human values as you have gone through this school year. If you have learned the values of sharing along with the values of learning, you have begun to understand the values of living. I sincerely hope that you will keep these thoughts in mind as you continue your education and hopefully as you go into college or into the business world wherever the most happiness may be found. May each of you with your built-in sense of right and wrong take a courageous stand for truth and justice so that you may lead and enjoy a richer, fuller life.

The first of June marks a finished section in the journey of our lives. The journey has been rough in places, the pathway not always clear. We met responsibility and homework head-on. We enthusiastically welcomed those first times such as senior pictures or choosing invitations. We sadly said goodbye to those last times such as the last home basketball game, or the last class party. Many seniors will attend college. Others will begin their journey of married life. Whatever pathway we choose, the memories of our past four years at JCHS will always be there. Our graduation day marks the beginning and ending of two separate journeys.

This year we have played the part of upperclassmen. With this role came a great whirlwind of activities. It was through this work that we were able to honor the seniors with the Jr.-Sr. Banquet and Prom. Excitement rose to a peak in April when we received our long-awaited class rings.

We are very grateful to our sponsors who helped make this year a success. We hope that next year, our last at J.C.H.S., will be as "special" as this year has been.

During our freshman year, time went fast as we learned more about high school life. We studied and played hard to pass and gain the friendship of the upperclassmen. We participated in clubs, activities, basketball, and baseball which kept us busy. We have walked the paths as freshmen and are waiting patiently until we can do the same as sophomores.

ATHLETICS

The Rangers had a winning season this year as they won 14 and lost 13 in regular season play. They took third in the Lowes Tournament and second in the Joppa Invitational Tournament. Joppa lost to Pope County in the Regional Tournament to close the season.

We are looking forward to an experienced, well-balanced team next year.

The graduating senior for this year is Ron Meadows.

We sincerely hope that when you read this book, it will mean more to you than simply a photographic coverage of the year's events; that it will throw a light upon your high school pathways filled with fond memories. Pathways packed with friendships, social events, and goals attained through hard work. We hope it will somehow light the road to the future by recording these past events and successes, reminding you of the hard work and trials, but also reminding you that you had fun and you made it. This is your yearbook; may it bring smiles to your face as you step into the future.

Under the direction of Mr. Curtis Mills the band had a successful year, whether adding spirit at basketball games, marching in parades, or entertaining the community in the annual spring concert.

The stage band performed for the Massac County Teachers Meeting March 6, and did a fine job.

During the first semester, the class was taught by Mr. Wayne Stevers, student teacher from S.I.U. With his exceptional vocal abilities we found that many of the boys in chorus were good singers. The chorus sang for Thanksgiving, Christmas, and graduation. It was a very exciting year.

SPANISH CLUB

MOTTO: Poco a poco se va lejos. (Little by little one goes far.)
CLUB COLORS: Red and black.

This year the Spanish Club has enjoyed doing many things. We had two semester parties and a Christmas program for ourselves. Before the last semester party there was a formal initiation of all the Spanish I students who had a B average or above after the first semester.

We also had some fund-raising projects. We held several bake sales at school; however, our major project was selling Praying Hands ink pens. The money raised was put in a fund for a trip to Mexico.

We wish to thank our sponsor, Mrs. Artman, for helping this club to have such a successful and happy year.

Pepsi-Cola cold
beats any cola cold!

Drink Pepsi cold—the colder the better. Pepsi-Cola's taste was created for the cold. That special Pepsi taste comes alive in the cold. Drenching, quenching taste that never gives out before your thirst gives in. Pepsi pours it on!

Taste that beats the others cold... Pepsi pours it on!
